Business Health Services acquires Baltimore Original PRIME EAP, Inc.

Second acquisition in five years for woman-owned company

Baltimore, Maryland, July 24, 2006 - Business Health Services (BHS), a leading national provider of workplace wellness solutions, and PRIME EAP, Inc. (PRIME), the oldest independent provider of Employee Assistance Program (EAP) services in Maryland, have reached an agreement under which BHS will acquire PRIME and its venerable book of business. This is the second acquisition in 5 years for BHS President/CEO Dawn Motovidlak.

Under the terms of the agreement, PRIME clients will be fully supported by BHS's staff clinicians, account managers and nationwide provider network of licensed counselors and health educators. Clients will be able to access BHS twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, via PRIME's existing call-center number.

"After considering several possible successors, BHS was the obvious choice," said Jim Murphy, President, PRIME. "They care about their clients, their employees, the Baltimore Metropolitan community and maintenance of quality. They have not lost sight of our industry's core values, and we are confident their passion will translate into a rewarding experience for our client organizations."

Merging the two families and providing superior service to their client organizations is priority number one. BHS and PRIME will work hand-in-hand to facilitate a seamless transition of accounts. This will ensure uninterrupted service delivery in a manner consistent with PRIME's legacy of providing high-touch and results-oriented workplace solutions to help organizations achieve their highest levels of growth, productivity and profitability.

"We are very excited about this opportunity," said Dawn Motovidlak, President and CEO, Business Health Services. "PRIME is a tenured and respected name in the Baltimore marketplace as well as a pioneer in the EAP industry. They have a legacy of traditional service and customer loyalty and we are proud to have been selected by PRIME's leadership to carry on their vision."

About BHS: Founded in 1983, BHS is a woman-owned and independently-operated nationwide provider of expert workplace wellness and Behavioral Risk Management solutions designed to reduce human capital costs, reduce organizational risk and loss, and support overall corporate wellness.
